MINISTERING TO HURTING PEOPLE...

We counsel precious women, of all ages, with similar stories of how the negative words spoken over them shaped their identity. And so it goes, their whole lives are determined by negative comments and experiences that became what they based their self-worth on. The negative words keep

"Then you will know the truth, and the truth will set you free"
John 8:32

repeating in their minds every moment of every day; I am unworthy, unlovable, unacceptable, inadequate, and will never be enough. Satan is out to steal, kill and destroy and does it masterfully.

One moment of hearing a negative comment can negate a lifetime of wonderful memories. These words destroy a person from the inside out allowing Satan to establish a negative self-worth that can lead to a life of being fearful, anxious, depressed and hopeless, which leads to living in defeat and in bondage.

Oh, how I want to heal their broken hearts. Sometimes I want to hug them and cry over them because their pain is so intense. I know the pain as I've been there myself. But as much as I want to help them God has the answer that will heal them and transform them!

Our ministry is about establishing an encounter with God that will lead to experiencing God. My father, Jim, said it this way: "For the natural desire of a Christian is to experience God, to find divine intimacy." Continued on back:

MINISTERING TO HURTING PEOPLE

“But to have this experience we must first have our encounter. Now, God delights in these encounters, for then He is able to establish the experience. As we study the Scriptures we see that it is out of an experience with God that the power of God is released. There is no other explanation for the lives of those who first encountered God and then experienced Him. This experience is not one of theological knowledge or of personal endeavors, but of an outward experience of an inward transformation.

“The experience that God desires is internal, a work of the heart. We experience God in spirit and in truth. We see His face written in the pages of His Word. We feel His presence as we pray at the Throne of Grace. We experience His power as His Spirit is released in and through us.

“Experiencing God is discovering an intimacy with God that only God can produce. This allows us to have and to enjoy what the angels surrounding the Throne have and enjoy—God Himself.”

Doris, Kitty and I minister at His Truth Transforms because we have had personal encounters that led us to experiences with God. Because of our experiences, we love helping others to know God so they too can encounter and experience Him. As they fully understand what our precious Savior did on the cross for them, we see women repeating the new words that now shape their new identity; I am lovable, worthy, smart, successful, adequate, confident, set apart, chosen, redeemed, fearless, victorious, and free!

We praise God for His Word that is life changing. He lives! Christi Craddock, President
